'Art Activities at St Andrews Museum'

An engaging talk and a range of workshops are on offer this Autumn at St Andrews Museum and Art Gallery. The activities arranged by Fife Contemporary Art & Craft will accompany the contemporary art exhibition 'Brown Linen' by textile artist Jeanette Sendler.

Jeanette kicks off the activities with a free informal Gallery Talk on Sunday 5 October. Visitors will find out the background to some of the amazing pieces of art, inspired by Newburgh's textile history.

Free workshops for children will be held each Friday during the October school holiday (17 & 24 October – ages 3-7 with accompanying adult, 10.30am-12noon; ages 8-12, 2-3.30pm). Textile based activities have been developed to appeal to both girls and boys.

Claire Heminsley, textile artist of last year's 'Cycling up the Hill with my Dad' and Jeanette each deliver an Adult Masterclass on Saturdays 18 & 25 October respectively, £20 fee (£15 concessions). Book workshops direct with St Andrews Museum on 01334 659380; for more information visit www.fcac.co.uk.
